I’m helping find legal representation for a civil rights case involving judicial misconduct, denial of due process, and institutional retaliation in Ramsey County. Tim lost his daughter, marriage, home, and career after refusing manipulation by a youth pastor named Steven. Law enforcement confirmed his innocence, yet civil courts issued restraining orders based on fabricated claims. Tim was denied testimony, my witnesses dismissed, and exculpatory evidence excluded. A referee fabricated events to justify a guilty finding. He has documented 15 peaceful attempts to reconcile with his daughter, met only with retaliation—gag orders, exclusion from her wedding, and further HROs. He is seeking litigation against Ramsey County, accountability for the pastor, sanctions against involved officials, and corrective action from the church. Tim has extensive documentation and a clear record of peaceful conduct. Would you be willing to review the case materials and consider representing him?

////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////

“I’m calling on behalf of Tim Hutchinson from White Bear Lake, Minnesota. He has a well-documented civil rights matter involving misconduct by a church youth pastor, a religious institution, serious attorney misconduct, and systemic failures within the Ramsey County court system that resulted in the deprivation of his constitutional rights.

Tim has prepared a comprehensive case package outlining five years of documented harm — including emotional, financial, reputational, and due-process violations — and he is seeking a civil rights or federal litigation firm capable of evaluating the matter. He has organized all evidence, communications, court records, witness information, and supporting documentation and is ready for an initial consultation.

This is a serious, time-sensitive case with multiple viable federal claims, and he would appreciate the opportunity to speak with counsel."

////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////////

I'm reaching out on behalf of Tim Hutchinson regarding a significant civil rights case that involves coordinated misconduct by a church youth pastor, a religious institution, an attorney whose actions materially harmed him, and procedural failures within the Ramsey County court system that denied him due process.

Tim has assembled a detailed evidence package — including communications, court filings, financial records, witness statements, and medical documentation — and is seeking a firm experienced in federal civil rights litigation.

The matter includes potential claims under 42 U.S.C. §§ 1983 and 1985, defamation, fraud, negligent supervision, and violations of the Minnesota Human Rights Act. He is prepared for intake and would like to schedule an initial evaluation with counsel."